

Dancing in the Dark

It takes talent to move to sway and proceed with the music in the distance against a silver moon.

It takes courage to walk away from angry words in a house full of rage.

It takes power to stand against the ugly stampedes in a world of hateful people.

It takes faith to say I am sorry to a people who have been hurt for centuries.

It takes you to do the thing you need to do for you to become the person you need to be.