

Hello, World!

I thought I was going to die.

On that day, 26 years ago, while hooked to several machines in a hospital in Michigan, U.S.A, the doctor told me I had a massive heart attack that caused extensive bleeding; I was devastated.

It was a shocker! Why? What happened? I asked myself.

But I didn't die.

God kept me alive. I was then 63; I am now 90.
